Violence in Rail Walkout Breaks at Many Points

TRAIN BOMBED, BRIDGE FIRED

Big Brotherhood Members Return to Work

CHICAGO.—(Associated Press).—An end to the strike of big four transportation brotherhoods on western railroads, an improved outlook for peace in the New York conference today, shootings, bombings and burnings were high lights in the nation's railway crisis during the last twenty-four hours.

Stranded Santa Fe trains were moved out of Albuquerque, N. M., and out of Prescott, Ariz., notified Santa Fe officials that strikers would return to work. The Union Pacific's traffic knot unraveled rapidly after trainmen on the Las Vegas division called off their strike. Other western roads restored train service activities to the basis which had been in effect since the shopmen's strike began July 1.

Tentative agreements looking toward an end to the trainmen's strike on the Cumberland division of the Louisville and Nashville were announced at Corbin, Ky.

Settlement of the trouble with the trainmen resulted in an immediate movement eastward of fruit shipments and other perishable freight marooned in California.

Bombs were thrown at a Santa Fe train which left San Bernardino, Calif., for the first time in six days. The first bomb exploded in the railroad yards and two more were hurled as the engine wheels spun over railroad tracks in the city.

George Stambaugh, a brakeman on the Great Northern, was shot and killed at Havre, Mont., by a railroad guard.

Mrs. Neils Hansen, wife of a Santa Fe shop foreman, was shot and killed in her home. Police took up the trail of two men who are said to have attacked her.

James Lewis, a striking Pennsylvania railroad machinist was shot to death by Charles Parson, a wealthy real estate man at Cape Charles, Va., following a dispute over the strike.

Traffic on the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific was blocked at El Reno, Okla., where a railroad bridge was burned.

AIRMEN OFF FOR 8,500-MILE TRIP

Flight From New York to Rio De Janeiro Begun

NEW YORK.—(United Press).—The Sampaio Correia, mammoth seaplane, hopped off from Rockaway naval air station on its 8,500-mile flight to Rio de Janeiro at 7:30 this morning. Slowly rising from its hangar, the plane winged off to sea, starting for Charleston, S. C., on the first leg of the flight. Walter Hinton, pilot and commander, expects to reach Charleston in less than seven hours.

Five hundred gallons of gasoline were poured into the tanks of the plane before it started. This is enough to last for more than 11 hours. The plane, including the stores of provisions, weighs more than nine tons.

The Sampaio Correia is equipped with two 800-horsepower Liberty motors and 10 fuel propellers.

Other than Hinton, the following were on board the ship:
Dr. E. Pinto Martins, assistant pilot; John Wilschusen, Mechanic; John T. Baitzell, movie photographer; and George T. Bye, New York newspaper man.

The ship, which will hug the Atlantic on the entire trip, will be in constant communication with the land by radio.

PET WAR WRECKS POWER DEAL

Lima's pet war against public utilities commission of the state promises to result in an endless tangle concerning power and light matters in the city.

This became apparent at a special meeting of the city commission last night when representatives of the Ohio Power Co. left the meeting after the commission had sought to eliminate the utilities commission from the new rate ordinance proposed for the company.

That the company already considers itself in power here was indicated by Frank Espy, representing the Ohio Power Co., before he walked out of the conference. He announced that his concern, which acquired the old Ohio Electric property thru the sale at Toledo this week, would continue to operate under the undetermined franchise for power and lighting held by the O. E. and that the only thing desired was a rate ordinance to become effective October 1.

This caused more or less consternation among city officials and the legal department for it has been supposed that the new company wanted a new franchise as well as rate ordinance. It was a step not looked for and officials declined to discuss probable action to meet it.

Representatives for both power and light and street car grants from the city hold that the state utilities commission is a legally constituted body and that it will be impossible to eliminate it from franchises, thus removing the official arbitration body for settling disputes.

The city may repeal the franchise under which the O. E. operates its power and light business and submit a new draft of its own making to the company. It also may ask other outside concerns to negotiate for a franchise here, but with the present company in control it is not believed that it would be easy to interest other firms.

Meanwhile the Ohio Power Co. will prepare to take over the old Ohio Electric property and operate under the present franchise. It is pointed out that unless an agreement is reached between the city and company before the rate schedule now in effect expires, the power company may go to the utilities commission for new rates. Under the law, the city would be helpless in opposing such a move.

SNAGS DISAPPEAR IN MINE PLANS

General Peace Expected from Today's Conference

PHILADELPHIA MEET OPENS

Ohio Operators Are in Parley at Columbus

(BY JACK DARROCK.)

PHILADELPHIA.—(United Press).—Delegates of hard coal miners and operators arrived today for a conference which is expected to send 155,000 anthracite workers back to the mines.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and his lieutenants, meet with S. D. Warriner and representatives of hard coal mine owners at 2 o'clock.

Cessation of suspension which began April 1, was hoped for by both sides, according to their statements. Miners' spokesmen were reported as declaring: "It's all over," while Warriner, speaking for the operators, asserted his side was ready for peace.

The soft coal settlement reached by central competitive field workers and owners at Cleveland, will have great influence in effecting agreement here it was believed.

The joint conference is the result of an invitation extended to the union leaders by S. D. Warriner, following a conference with Senator George Wharton Pepper, Pennsylvania, held last Sunday in the home of William A. Glasgow, Jr., counsel for the miners.

OBSTACLES DISAPPEAR
It is pointed out that many of the demands and counter-demands which appeared in the early meetings held in New York to be insoluble obstacles to a hard coal peace, will disappear at today's meeting.

That there is some basis for this, is seen in the recent announcement by Warriner that the operators would be willing to take the men back at the old wage. Lewis, on behalf of the miners, withdrew the demand for a 20 per cent increase in wages.

OHIO OPERATORS MEET
COLUMBUS.—(United Press).—Coal operators of southern Ohio, the most important Ohio field not affected by the bituminous wage agreement, met here today to consider adopting the peace basis reached by the Cleveland conference.

When the southern Ohio mines are operating full time they furnish employment to 2,000 of the state's miners.

W. D. McKinney, secretary of the operators' organization, declined to give any intimation of the probable action to be taken at today's conference, just before going into the meeting. It was learned however, that mines in the southern Ohio fields are being "cleared for action." Day workmen are busy about the shafts.

Mine leaders declared the operators must reach an agreement or lose their market.

Meantime upwards of 25,000 miners returned to their tasks in the fields of the eastern and central districts. First actual cutting of coal was scheduled beginning in the Bellaire fields.

PAINTER SUSPENDED BY HIS TOES FOR HALF HOUR

NEW ORLEANS.—John Thomas 60-year-old smokestack painter, today was in a hospital here seriously ill from the combined effects of having hung suspended by his toes eighty feet in the air half an hour, and having a "bucket of crocodile paint" dashed over him.

Thomas was sitting on a rigger's chair attached to a block tackle when he was overcome by heat. Falling backward his toes caught in a piece of rope, a bucket of crocodile paint upset and poured over him. A helper climbed from the top of the stack and lashed Thomas' feet to the rigging, being unable to pull him to safety.

Twenty-five minutes after the accident extension ladders from a fire company were raised and Thomas was rescued from his perilous position.

He does not attribute his longevity to anything in particular.

RAIL PEACE MAY BE NEAR

High Official Takes Job

When Lieutenant Governor P. A. Barrows of Nebraska (shown above) found his bank balance and cash in hand totaled about $5, he took a job as guard for the Burlington Railroad, escorting strikebreakers to and from work. Barrows, who gets $5 a day on his new job contends he has a right to earn a living so long as he does not neglect his duty to the state.

TRUCKS MAY TAKE TRAINS' PLACE

Ohio Officials Discuss Plans in Event of Rail Tieup

COLUMBUS.—(United Press).—State authorities, believing that federal intervention and control of operation of railroads will come before a complete transportation tieup is permitted, have made no plans to insure food supplies in Ohio's cities in the event railroad brotherhoods join striking shopmen and paralyze the railroads.

Possibility of such a tieup and attendant danger to city populations, it was learned today, has been discussed only informally by state authorities. Officials generally believe special session of the legislature would be the first move, to pass any emergency legislation necessary to enable state authorities to handle every phase of the situation.

If a tieup comes, officials said, mobilization of Ohio's thousands of motor trucks to supplement facilities of electric lines which would still be available to food transport, would be an immediate necessity.

AVAILABLE TRUCKS
There are 110,000 motor trucks licensed in Ohio, according to Registrar Snow. No survey has ever been made which would determine how many could be used in an emergency service of supplies, but it is estimated from 40,000 to 50,000 would be available.

Governor Davis has not yet been asked by any local authorities to act in case of a railroad tieup but he would be prepared to exercise all the authority of his office to see that food supplies were assured throughout the state.

WINE AND BEER PLANK ADOPTED BY COMMITTEE

Democratic candidates for congress be required to pledge themselves to support any measure looking to modifying the Volstead act so as to bring back the less potent liquors.

The executive committee of the Democratic county committee adopted the resolution unanimously.

SOARING PRICES OF COAL FEARED

Breakdown of Government Control Now Threatened

RESULT OF MINE REOPENING

Problem is Presented by Increase in Fuel Supply

WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press).—Settlement in part of the bituminous strike and prospects of an agreement to end the suspension of work in the anthracite fields has brought the government face to face with a new problem—the matter of controlling the prices of the augmented coal supply.

The government during the general suspension of mining has used coal supply as a weapon to enforce the price agreements to which the producing operators subscribed but with new mines opening daily the federal fuel distributor has been confronted with the possibility of a breakdown in the control exercised over prices.

Whether the present system, which is purely voluntary, can be extended to the mines now being opened is a question being given serious consideration by officials.

SOME OF PRESIDENT HARRISON'S advisers, notably Secretary Hoover, are known to feel that congress should be asked to enact some sort of price control legislation to prevent skyrocketing of coal prices as the result of the shortage caused by the miners' walkout.

The federal distribution committee announced today that another question that had come to it for solution was whether grain elevators should be classed as public utilities and thereby be given priority in coal supplies. The committee was said to hold that the needs of elevators come within the jurisdiction of the various state fuel administrations.

SECOND PRIMARY TO DECIDE RACE

Vardaman Wins Plurality, Not Majority, for Senator

JACKSON, Miss.—(Associated Press).—Campaign managers for former United States Senator James K. Vardaman, who on the face of available unofficial returns gained a plurality, but failed to obtain a majority in Tuesday's Democratic primary and subvert Stephens, who will oppose Vardaman in the "run-off," perfected their plans today for a second campaign to obtain endorsement as the party nominee for United States senator to succeed John Sharpe Williams.

Statements issued from the headquarters of the two candidates expressed confidence of drawing to their support the vote given Miss Belle Kearney who ran third in the race.

It was pointed out that Miss Kearney polled about 17,000 votes—a comparatively negligible quantity, yet it sufficed to throw the contest into a second primary.

Miss Kearney thus far has issued no statement to indicate that she will ask her supporters to favor either candidate.

Under the state law the second primary will be held September 5.

MUST PROVE RUM'S KICK BEFORE MAKING ARREST

FORT PIERCE, Fla.—Chemists with portable laboratories and capable of analyzing liquor on the jump, may be needed in Florida as prohibition officers under a ruling of County Judge J. B. Johnson of St. Lucie Co. He held that even when an officer sees liquor transported he cannot arrest the person in possession with a warrant, unless it is first proved by chemical analysis that the material being moved is intoxicating.

The decision was in the case of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Garrett of Cairo, Ill., in whose automobile officers found twenty cases of what they declared was "intoxicating liquor."

DANCER SUES FOR $1,000,000 BALM

EVAN BURROWS FONTAINE

Case Resembles Stillman Affair—Child May Figure in Long Litigation

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y.—(Special).—Another Stillman case?

Is that what the litigation, between Evan Burrows Fontaine, Oriental dancer and motion picture actress, and Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney will turn out to be?

Perhaps, say lawyers, in the endless legal complications that seem likely to arise. Altho basically quite a different sort of case, it may parallel the Stillman case in the length and complexity of litigation.

Asking $1,000,000 damages for alleged breach of promise, Miss Fontaine in the formal complaint she has just filed here declares young Whitney, a college student, repeatedly promised to wed her and that she consented to the marriage.

The promise of marriage, her complaint adds, enabled Whitney to debauch and demoralize her. Whitney will contest these statements.

CHILD IN CASE
Later there may be drawn into the case Miss Fontaine's allegation that Whitney is the father of a child she says was born to her whom she says she christened Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, Jr. Whitney denies parenthood of the child.

Whitney's lawyers are making a preliminary fight to invalidate the suit on the ground of statutory limitation because of failure to follow up the summons served on young Whitney a year ago.

It is probable the Rockland co. court records of the annulment of Miss Fontaine's first marriage to Sterling Adair will be dug up.

There will likely be an effort to prove, on her behalf, that her marriage to Adair was not legal because Adair was already married to another; and on Whitney's behalf that the annulment proceedings therefore were fraudulent.

The baby may be an important figure in the legal tangle.

Altho the suit was filed here, Miss Fontaine is in California, engaged in movie work.

UNIONS TO MAKE NEW OFFER

Optimism Prevails as Parley Opens at New York

LONG SESSION IS EXPECTED

Harding Awaits Outcome Before Taking Action

NEW YORK.—(United Press).—Railroad peace today hung on the conference between union leaders and rail executives here.

The big four brotherhood chiefs, headed by Warren S. Stone, chief of the engineers and a committee of executives headed by Thomas DeWitt Cuyler, were in conference this afternoon to end the strike of 400,000 railroad shopmen.

The brotherhoods are acting in the conference as agents for the shopmen and are understood to be ready to offer a new plan of strike settlement to the executives.

Not only were the leaders of the transportation groups here, but representatives of 16 other striking and non-striking unions were assembled, including Bert M. Jewell, president of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor.

Leaders of opposing sides were optimistic that a settlement of the long drawn out rail controversy is in sight.

It was anticipated that sessions between the carriers and union heads would last far in the night.

Altho W. S. Stone, would not outline his plan of settlement, it was reliably reported that it would include this plan of settling of the scholarly question:

Reinstatement of strikers behind old employ who stayed at work, and ahead of those who have been hired since the strike became effective.

Those representing the unions in the conference are:

Warren S. Stone, engineers; L. E. Sheppard, conductors; W. N. Doak, trainmen; W. H. Robertson, fireman, and T. C. Cashen, switchmen.

HARDING WAITING OUTCOME
WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press).—President Harding was understood today virtually to have completed the message he will present to congress dealing with the nation's industrial situation but no time was set as to just when he would deliver it, previous plans for presenting it today having been, it was understood, held in abeyance because of the rail strike conference set for today at New York.

In the meantime mediation activities which have been in progress here for the past week were practically suspended as most of the striking shop crafts representatives and heads of the four big non-striking unions were in New York to meet the executives committee today. When they left here the brotherhood officials who, will actually confer with the executives, said they were not taking a prepared proposition to a meeting. L. E. Sheppard, chief of the conductors' organization said, however, that the demand of the strikers for full seniority status in case of their return to work could not be modified and the strike leaders appeared in full accord with that view.

KEYNOTE SPEECH WILL BE MADE BY SENATOR WILLIS

COLUMBUS.—An invitation to serve as temporary chairman and keynote speaker of the republican state convention to be held here August 22, has been accepted by Senator Willis. It was announced today.

DEATH TOLL IN STORM ESTIMATED AT 60,000

AMOI.—Swatow's death toll in the typhoon of August 2, is conservatively estimated at 60,000, a representative of the Associated Press learned in a visit to the stricken area. The storm was one of the worst disasters which has visited this part of the globe. Property damage will run into many millions, the Standard Oil Co., alone suffering a loss of $100,000.

BOND ISSUES FOR ODD SUMS HIT

Always Hard to Sell, City Auditor Sellers Declares

NOT WANTED BY INVESTORS

Lima Citizens May Get Chance at Big Block

Uneven amounts in the issuance of city bonds cause much inconvenience in providing for their payment and make them undesirable to bond buyers, Evan O. Sellers believes.

Five bond issues have been authorized by the city commission and four of them are for uneven amounts. Considerable difficulty may be experienced in disposing of them, Sellers fears.

Amounts of the issues are as follows: $6,885, $14,500, $11,550, $11,970 and $11,600. The last named is the only one for which bonds of even denomination can be issued.

In the first issue, $6,885 it will be necessary to issue one bond for $185 and 67 for $100. In the $14,500 issue, 23 $500 bonds and one $450 bond will be necessary.

Ten $100 bonds, 20 for $500 and one $550 bond will be necessary in the $11,550 bond issue and one $470 bond, 21 $500 and 10 for $100 will be the division of the $11,970 bond issue. In the $11,600 bond issue 21 bonds will be for $100 and 14 for $500.

DISLIKE ODD SUMS
Bond buyers desire the securities in denominations of $500 and $1000 wherever possible as the cost of selling the smaller bonds makes their interest return to the investor too low, Sellers says.

Whenever possible the odd denomination bonds are sold to the sinking fund trustees or to the state sinking fund. A meeting will be called by Sellers very soon to consider the purchase of some of these bonds by the Lima sinking fund.

Should it be impossible to sell the bonds to any of the agencies, it will be necessary to advertise them for public sale and avoid bids received by the auditor.

In case no bids are received the city might offer the bonds to the citizens desiring a safe investment. The bonds pay 5-1/2 percent and run for an average of 10 years.

As they are for street paving and assessments have been made to fully cover all charges and a portion of them are retired each year, they would be excellent investments for Lima citizens, especially the $100 bonds, Sellers points out.

Sale in this manner will not be possible, however, unless no bids are received when they are advertised, Sellers said.

POWER TANGLE TO BE CONSIDERED

City Commission Will Hold Meeting in Short Time

POINTS OF LAW DISPUTED

Possible Loss of Street Car Service Seen

That city commissioners will soon get together informally to discuss the tangle which has arisen in the power and street railway franchise negotiations was indicated Thursday. No time for the meeting has been set.

Proposals by the Ohio Power Co., that the old franchise under which the C. O. Electric operated be continued and a rate ordinance only be negotiated have taken the commission by surprise.

Al along the commission has been expecting to give the power company a new franchise as the old one has no regulatory provisions and is of an indeterminate character, C. A. Blighman, city manager, said, Thursday.

It was expected that a rate ordinance would be included in the franchise. To this the Ohio Power Co., will not agree, claiming that the two must be separate under the city charter which rules that ordinances must be for one purpose only.

DIFFER ON LAW
City Commissioners disagree with this interpretation of the law, saying that a rate provision is an integral part of a franchise and that the two can be passed as one ordinance.

In this they are supported by Paul Landis, city solicitor, who assures them that such an ordinance can be passed and also that a provision for eliminating the state Public Utilities commission can be inserted.

By inserting a provision making it impossible for either side to ask the utilities commission to arbitrate any disputes, the city hopes to be able to settle any differences in Lima.

Frank Espy, representing the Ohio Power Co., has told the commission that the company is positive that such a clause would be contrary to the laws of the state of Ohio which have formed the utilities commission for the purpose of arbitrating rate disputes and has given in to necessary power to settle them.

Landis disagrees with this interpretation of the state law and has advised the city commission that under the terms of the city charter the state law is inoperative or can be superseded. Should the power company appeal to the utilities commission after such a clause is inserted the franchise can be revoked by the city, Landis holds.

MAY CAUSE BREAK
While an agreement has been highly probable between the city commission and D. J. Cable regarding the street railway grant, it is feared that both companies are so closely bound that the Lima City Street Railway Co., will refuse to receive the franchise unless the power company receives a rate ordinance also.

Possibility that failure to pass a rate ordinance for the power company and street railway franchise will mean the cessation of street railway operation in the city is also seen.

As the matter now stands, the Ohio Power Co. will operate until October 1 under the rate ordinance now in effect. What will happen after that date is now a matter for the city commission to determine.

SENSATION PROMISED IN CHICAGO LIQUOR CASE

Claybaugh, special investigator of the federal office here.

In letters to David Nolan, intelligence unit chief, and made public following his dismissal, denied he made the charges against the Illinois senator and his secretary but declared that he will continue investigations in which he has engaged and that he might make some sensational disclosures involving some of the city's prominent men.

Four men were taken into custody Wednesday. They were: J. L. Hartman, 24, 5th Hazel-ave, Ralph Feigh, 21, 612 S. McDonel-st, Pete Pelligrini, 23, 811 S. Main-st, and T. D. Greenland, 20, 640 S. SCANDAL BREAKS IN LOVE COURT

Tampering With Jury Charged in Matrimonial Tribunal

KENTUCKY BEAUTY AWARDED

Winner of the Grand Prize is Accused of Cupidity

HAMMONTON, N. J. — (United Press).—Scandal broke out in "Cupid's court" here today.

Velled hints of jury tampering were hotly denied by Thomas Dekler, secretary of the Cooperative Lovers' Union, which is marrying off 2,000 loveless men and women, who mailed in their marriage intentions.

Dekler, who runs the show, was accused by some of cupidity because he was awarded the prize of the lot "Mary Doe," an 18-year-old beauty of Old Kentucky.

Mrs. Helen Long Rodgers, judge of the court at the opening today, ruled that there would be no retrial of the case of Dekler and his daughter of Kentucky.

COURT'S RULING
"Whom the Cooperative Lovers' Union had joined together, let no man put asunder," ruled Mrs. Rodgers.

Lewis Conley, the cigar store proprietor and former Babe Ruth of New Jersey, who started the contest in a joke, took the role of the woman's champion, when court was resumed. He pulled forth a questionnaire from the pile and Dekler who represents the men, pulled out a masculine one.

The two men argued the respective merits of their candidates for the altar.

It will be weeks, court attaches believe before the entire 2,000 is disposed of.

During the first session only a few couples were mated. Special delivery letters, telling each party whom they drew, have been forwarded.

After a correspondence of six months, those who are paired off may marry.

Results of the first session:
New York widow, 50, matched with a lonesome Hammonton printer, 62.

Ocean City, N. J. life guard, 52, mated with a Connecticut woman, 42.

A man and woman of Philadelphia who were born and want to die there.

A Washington, D. C. woman, 28, with a Philadelphia man, 34.

NO BEER, NO RUM, SAYS ROUSH

Liberal Candidate Makes Unusual Entry in His Report

Cost of buying alcoholic beverages caused no financial outlay to O. J. Roush, former Lima police chief, in his recent battle for Democratic nomination for Sheriff. He was classed as a liberal in the campaign.

He says so in his expense account filed at the board of elections office Thursday.

"No Beer, No Whiskey." The statement is the last item in his account, which shows that Roush spent $32.45 in total. Advertising consumed $73.45 of the amount, and oil and gasoline $20.

Jacob P. Miller runner up in the Democratic race for county treasurer filed the largest expense account up to date. His campaign expenses amount to $362.01. Automobile hire accounts for $198 of the sum and cards and circulars $104.

Other candidates' expenses show as follows:

J. J. Wyr, Republican for treasurer, $14.80; Dr. Frank Smith, Democrat for coroner, $29.50; R. W. Poling, Democrat for sheriff, $50; Mrs. Loretta Durbin, Republican for clerk of courts, $18.83; Dr. V. H. Hay, Democrat for coroner, $21.35; A. J. Gray, Republican for commissioner $14.80.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonsful of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Adv.

WATER FILTRATION IS EXPLAINED TO DRUGGISTS

Superintendent Smith of the Lima waterworks filtration plant outlined methods used in filtering city water Wednesday night at a meeting of the Lima Drug Club at the Barr hotel. Wholesale and retail druggists were present.

A report on the Ohio druggists' convention held at Cedar Point was read by E. B. Hale.

Tom Greenland, Harold Creps and A. C. Davis were appointed a committee to arrange a meeting in September, at which John Farley of the National Cash Register company of Dayton, will speak.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every Druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenru, the sure conquerer of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. Green's Public Drug Store can supply you.

THE RADIO SLUMP

CRAPE-HANGERS are predicting that the radio craze is booked to fizzle out. They are wrong.

Unquestionably, interest in radio is going thru a decided slump. It is a natural reaction. The novelty is wearing off. Radio is becoming commonplace. Only a few months ago it was as great a marvel as the arrival of a man from Mars.

Interest in the airplane has had much the same reaction. In communities where planes are not uncommon, people still look overhead when they hear the hum of the steel locusts. But they do not look with the speed that formerly threatened to dislocate the neck.

Nevertheless, the airplane is forging ahead rapidly. It will be the same with radio.

MANUFACTURERS of radio equipment think that the slump in wireless enthusiasm is due to summer. Their theory is that people want to be outdoors now in the evenings as much as possible.

In autumn, the manufacturers predict, radio will come back stronger than ever.

If the trade is wise, it will triple its efforts to provide novelty and "class" in the broadcast music.

Inventive genius, too, must be intensified on improving radio apparatus, especially for eliminating static.

AN old hand-bill comes to light in the east, advertising one of the early telephone demonstrations at the city hall in Lawrence, Mass., May 28, 1877. The hand-bill reads:

"The miracle telephone! Wonderful discovery of the age! Professor A. Graham Bell, assisted by Mr. Frederic A. Gower, will give an exhibition of his wonderful and marvellous discovery, The Telephone, before the people of Lawrence, when Boston and Lawrence will be connected via the Western Union Telegraph, and vocal and instrumental music and conversation will be transmitted a distance of 27 miles and received by the audience in the city hall. Prof. Bell will give an explanatory lecture with this marvellous exhibition."

There's a curious coincidence between "vocal and instrumental music and conversation" over the telephone wire in 1877, and similar service by radio in 1922.

The telephone, considered a marvel, swept popular fancy overnight. Then it had a slump. People began to call it "a scientific toy." Many of them predicted that the telephone craze would die out quickly, just as similar predictions are being made now about radio.

But the telephone hasn't died out. Neither will radio. It is as much in its infancy as Bell's phone was in 1877. And its future is as promising.

FIELD MEET FOR CHILDREN

SEVERAL hundred children of Lima were ready today to take part in the second annual track and field meet under the auspices of the Allen County Child Welfare association. These are the children who have been attending the playground centers under the direction of the association.

The meet today was the final competition of the year. The interest in the affair and the training shown by the youngsters prove conclusively the value of playgrounds. Those who have trained the children and the public which has made possible the centers are to be congratulated. The success expected for the big meet is a strong argument for the extension of the playground system in Lima.

YOUNGSTERS

MORE than 1,000,000 American children between the ages of 10 and 15 work for a living. The census shows this.

You reflect that it is rather a black eye for civilization. But don't be discouraged. The wind is blowing in the right direction. The number of child laborers is decreasing. In mining, for instance, only 40 children between 10 and 15 are employed for each 100 children 10 years ago.

IT LOOKS LIKE IT'S GONNA BE KINDA CROWDED

HORSESHOES

HORSESHOE pitching now has 1,000,000 players, says B. G. Leighton, head of this sport's national association.

This and the increasing popularity of golf indicate a gradual drift away from baseball.

And back of that is a national psychological wave, a general desire to get actual exercise out of sport instead of sitting comfortably in a grandstand and watching others exercise. It is an important and valuable change.

FAT WOMEN

AMERICAN women are getting fatter. Forty-five out of 100 of them are classified as "stout," by clothing makers. So reports Charles Pomerantz, New York fashion expert. In keeping this, city women lead those of small town and farm.

Exercise and diet are the best ways to fight fat. In years to come, weight will be regulated by tinkering with the body's endocrine glands. That would please Dr. M. Brown-Seward, the original gland man, who was ridiculed even by "scientists" when he first advanced glandular theories 33 years ago.

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

MOLES AND WARTS

By DR. R. H. BISHOP
Does that mole or wart on your face bother you every time you look in the mirror?
If you are young, a wart or mole will not harm you, except as an unsightly blemish. In advanced age, however, it may turn into a malignant growth. A cancer sometimes manifests itself in the form of a wart or mole.
It is for this reason, perhaps more than because they are beauty spoiling marks, that people have them removed.

The electric needle is used to remove small moles. For the larger ones the X-ray, radium and "dioxide snow" have been successfully employed.

For a large mole an operation which is not as bad as it sounds is that of carefully cutting out the blemish and drawing the edges together.

Sometimes a wart may be removed by use of salicylic acid.

Cleanliness has often been found useful in getting rid of warts. An abundance of soap and water, followed by the use of a powder, such as boric acid or alum, often will do where other things are of no use.

THE RED HOUSE MYSTERY

By A. A. MILNE

"Cayley asked us to bring a letter along," Bill explained to Betty Calhoun. "Here you are."
"You will tell him, won't you, how dreadfully sorry I am about—about what has happened? It seems so hopeless to say anything; so hopeless even to believe it. If it is true what we've heard."
Bill repeated the outline of the events of yesterday.
"Yes... And Mr. Ablett hasn't been found yet?"
"No."
She shook her head in distress. "It still seems to have happened to somebody else; somebody we didn't know at all." Then, with a sudden grave smile which included both of them, "But you must come and have some tea."
"It's awfully decent of you," said Bill awkwardly, "but we—"
"You will, won't you?" she said to ANTHONY.

"Thank you, very much."
Mrs. Norbury was delighted to see them, as she always was to see any man in her house who came up to the necessary standard of eligibility. When her life work was completed, and summed up in those beautiful words: "A marriage has been arranged, and will shortly take place, between Angela, daughter of the late John Norbury... then she would utter a grateful Nunc dimittis and depart in peace—to a better world if heaven insisted, but preferably to her new son-in-law's more dignified establishment."

But it was not as "eligibles" that the visitors from the Red House were received with such eagerness today, and even if her special smile for "eligibles" was there, it was instinctive rather than reasoned. All that she wanted at this moment was news—news of Mark. For she was bringing it off at last; and, if the engagement columns of the "Morning Post" were preceded, as in the case of its obituary columns, by a premonitory bulletin, the announcement of yesterday would have cried triumphantly to the world, or at least such part of the world as mattered.

"A marriage has been arranged," Mrs. Norbury said, and arranged (by Mrs. Norbury), and will certainly take place, between Angela, only daughter of the late John Norbury, and Mark Ablett of the Red House."

The girl was often amused by her mother's ways; sometimes ashamed of them; sometimes distressed by them. The Mark Ablett affair had seemed to her particularly distressing, for Mark was so obviously in league with her mother against her. It was a pleasure to turn to Cayley, that hopeless eligible.

But alas! Cayley had misunderstood her. She could not imagine Cayley in love—until she saw it, and tried too late, to stop it. That was four days ago. She had not seen him since, and now here was this letter. She dreaded opening it. It was a relief to feel that at least she had an excuse for not doing so while her guests were in the house.

Mrs. Norbury recognized at once that Anthony was likely to be the more sympathetic listener; and when tea was over, and Bill and Angela had been dispatched to the garden, dear Mr. Gillingham found himself on the sofa beside her, listening to many things which were of even greater interest to him than she could possibly have hoped.

"It is terrible, terrible," she said. "And to suggest that dear Mr. Ablett—"
Anthony made suitable noises.

"You've seen Mr. Ablett for yourself. A kinder, more warm-hearted man—"
Anthony explained that he had not seen Mr. Ablett.

"Of course, yes, I was forgetting."

But, you believe me, Mr. Gillingham, you can trust a woman's intuition in these matters."

Anthony said he was sure of this.

"Think of my feelings as a mother," Anthony was thinking of Miss Norbury's feelings as a daughter, and wondering if she guessed that her affairs were now being discussed with a stranger. Mark engaged, or about to be engaged! Had that any bearing on the events of yesterday? What, for instance, would Mrs. Norbury have thought of brother

"THINK OF MY FEELINGS AS A MOTHER"

Robert, that family skeleton? Was this another reason for wanting brother Robert out of the way?

"I never liked him, never!"

"Never liked—?" said Anthony, bewildered.

"That cousin of his—Mr. Cayley." "How did Miss Norbury get on with him?" Anthony asked cautiously.

"There was nothing in that at all," said Miss Norbury's mother emphatically. "Nothing. I would say so to anybody."

"Oh, I beg your pardon. I never meant—"

"Nothing. I can say that for dear Angela with perfect confidence. Whether he made advances?" She broke off with a shrug of her plump shoulders.

Anthony waited eagerly.

"Naturally they met. Possibly he might have—I don't know. But my duty as a mother was clear, Mr. Gillingham."

Mr. Gillingham made an encouraging noise.

"I told him quite frankly that—how shall I put it?—that he was trespassing. Tactfully, of course. But frankly."

"You mean," said Anthony, trying to speak calmly, "that you told him that—Mr. Ablett and your daughter—?"

Mrs. Norbury nodded severely.

"Exactly, Mr. Gillingham. I had my duty as a mother."

"There must have been a certain awkwardness about the next meeting," suggested Anthony.

"Naturally he has not been here since. No doubt they would have been bound to meet up at the Red House sooner or later."

"Oh, this was only quite lately?"

"Last week, Mr. Gillingham. I spoke just in time."

"Ah!" said Anthony, under his breath. "He had been waiting for it. He would have liked now to have gone away, so that he might have thought over the new situation by himself. But Mrs. Norbury was still talking."

"Girls are so foolish, Mr. Gillingham," she was saying. "It is fortunate that they have mothers to guide them. It was so obvious to me from the beginning that dear Mr. Ablett was just the husband for my little girl. You never knew him."

Anthony said again that he had not seen Mr. Ablett.

"Such a gentleman. So nice-looking, in his artistic way. A regular Velasquez—should say Van Dyck. Angela would have it that she could never marry a man with a beard. As if that mattered, when—"

"She broke off, and Anthony finished her sentence for her."

"The Red House is certainly charming," he said.

"Charming. Quite charming." She gave a deep sigh. Anthony was about to snatch the opportunity of leaving, when Mrs. Norbury began again.

"And then there's this scapegrace brother of his. He was perfectly frank with me, Mr. Gillingham. He told me of this brother, and I told him that I was quite certain it would make no difference to my daughter's feelings for him. . . . After, all the brother was in Australia."

"When was this? Yesterday?" Anthony felt that, if Mark had only mentioned it after his brother's announcement of a personal call at the Red House, this perfect frankness had a good deal of wisdom behind it.

"It couldn't have been yesterday, Mr. Gillingham. Yesterday—"

"She shuddered, and shook her head. "I thought perhaps he had been down here in the morning."

"Oh, no! There is such a thing, Mr. Gillingham, as being too devoted a lover. Not in the morning, no. We both agreed that dear Angela—Oh, no. No; the day before yesterday, when he happened to drop in about tea-time."

It occurred to Anthony that Mrs. Norbury had come a long way from her opening statement that Mark and Miss Norbury were practically engaged. She was now admitting that dear Angela was not to be rushed, that dear Angela had, indeed, no heart for the match at all.

"The day before yesterday. As it happened, dear Angela was out. Not that it mattered. He was driving to Middleton. He hardly had time for a cup of tea, so that even if she had been in—"

Anthony nodded absently. This was something new. Why did Mark go to Middleton the day before yesterday? But, after all, why shouldn't he? A hundred reasons unconnected with the death of Robert might have taken him there.

He got up to go. He wanted to be alone—alone, at least, with Bill. Mrs. Norbury had given him many things to think over, but the great outstanding fact which had emerged was this: that Cayley had reason to hate Mark. Mrs. Norbury had given him that reason. To hate? Well, to be jealous, anyhow. But that was enough.

"You see," he said to Bill, as they walked back, "we know that Cayley is perceiving himself and hisking himself over this business, and that must be for one of two reasons. Either to save Mark or to endanger him. That is to say, he is either wholeheartedly for him or wholeheartedly against him. Well, now we know that he is against him, definitely against him."

They had come to the gate into the last field which divided them from the road.

"Jolly little place, isn't it?" said Bill.

"Very. But rather mysterious. Isn't there a drive, or a road or anything?"

"Oh, there's a cart-track, but motor-cars can't go any nearer than the road"—he turned round and pointed—"up there. So the week-end millionaire people don't take it. At least, they'd have to build a road and a garage and all the rest of it, if they did."

"I see," said Anthony carelessly, and they turned round and continued their walk up to the road. But later on he remembered this casual conversation at the gate, and saw the importance of it.

CHAPTER XVI
What was it which Cayley was going to hide in that pond that night? Anthony thought that he knew now. It was Mark's body.

HOW DUCKBILL GOT JEALOUS

By Olive Roberts Barton

It swam gracefully about, spreading its wings and folding them again proudly.

MR. WAGGLETAIL DUCKBILL was out for a walk. He stopped every now and then to gobble up something to eat. Then he would go on again.

Mr. Duckbill was feeling fine and very happy. He even hummed a little tune.

"A frog he would a-wooing go, Whether his Mammy would let him or no, Hi umpty lorum a diddle oh!"

He stopped and ate a beetle. Then he went on and sang his song all over again.

"A frog he would a-wooing go, And so on, What a fine fellow I have such a nubby one!"

This time he stopped and ate a mosquito. He hummed another lullaby and stopped to eat a white grub.

He'd eaten a fuzzy worm, a bee, a rain-toad and a grasshopper when he spied a lovely white creature with a long neck away out on Lily Pond.

He swam gracefully about, spreading its wings and folding them again proudly.

"H'm!" said Mr. Duckbill, looking awfully and then gazing thoughtfully at his own reflection in the water.

"I wonder why I have such a short neck, and no wings to speak of!"

Then he went on with his walk and his song.

By and by he saw a pony in a field waving his fine, long tail about to chase the flies away.

"H'm!" said Mr. Duckbill again. "What a fine fellow I wonder why I have such a nubby one!"

He went on with his walk again, and his song.

"Goodness! What a fine pair of legs that bird has! That must be Mr. Crane. I wonder why I have such ugly, short legs!"

He stopped and ate a beetle.

Then he went on and sang his song all over again.

"A frog he would a-wooing go, And so on, What a fine fellow I have such a nubby one!"

It is time he went on with his walk, but not his song.

"How do you do this fine morning?" said Dr. Snuffles, passing by. "Rotten!" grumbled Mr. Duckbill.

"I'm going home and go to bed!" Jealousy, my dear, is the worst disease there is. (To Be Continued) (Copyright, 1922)

Are you proud of your teeth?

—the right dentifrice will quickly make them gleam white

Listerine Tooth Paste, made by the Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, makers of Listerine, contains just the right cleansing agent. It is hard enough to remove daily formation of tartar, yet not hard enough to scratch or injure the enamel. You take no chances with it.

Avoid dentifrices that attack the enamel

Guard the precious enamel of your teeth. Don't scratch it with a paste containing harsh abrasives. This enamel can never be replaced.

Also avoid soaps and other alkalis

Dental authorities now agree that the ideal dentifrice should contain no soaps or other alkaline ingredients. These work against Nature; they lessen the natural saliva flow and hasten tooth decay.

Mild fruit acids on the other hand, such as Listerine Tooth Paste contains, aid Nature in preserving the teeth.

Clean your teeth thoroughly and pleasantly

Notice how delightfully fresh and clean your mouth feels after you use Listerine Tooth Paste. It's natural that it should feel so. Listerine Tooth Paste is made to work that way—to clean your teeth thoroughly and pleasantly, and help you keep your teeth and gums in their natural healthy condition.

Listerine Tooth Paste works naturally

Notice how your mouth waters when you use it. That is because the fruit acid elements in Listerine Tooth Paste—grape, orange, apple and grapefruit—stimulate the flow of saliva. Saliva is good for the teeth and gums. That's one of the purposes for which saliva is provided. Again notice the clean feeling. Your teeth will feel clean after you use Listerine Tooth Paste thoroughly, because they are clean.

Listerine Tooth Paste is safe and efficient

—because it contains the correct polishing agent; removes tartar safely; can't injure the enamel; —because it contains mild fruit acids (instead of harmful soaps and alkalis) to stimulate the saliva that Nature intended to keep your teeth healthy; —because it contains the healing antiseptic, essential oils contained in Listerine.

DUNDEE, HOLDER OF TWO TITLES, SEEKS MORE

May Chase
Kilbane

NEW YORK—As soon as Johnny Dundee wins the lightweight championship and gets fatter and wins the welterweight title and then gets heavier and wins the middleweight championship, he'll be satisfied.

Dundee now holds two titles, but they are both trick ones. He won the belt for the junior lightweight division, a branch established for 180-pounders, and Tuesday night, he took the featherweight championship of Muldoon from Danny Frush, Cleveland.

GET HIM IN

From all surface appearances, all Dundee must do to win the real world's featherweight crown is to get Johnny Kilbane in the ring. As long as Kilbane insists upon 122 pounds for the fight, even the flexible Dundee can't make the weight.

Dundee is going after Benny Leonard now with the official challenge and the official forfeit and the official bal-lyhoo. He has been trying to get Benny to fight him to a decision for some time, but the champion apparently wanted to take no chance of spoiling the business partnership that has existed between them for many years.

Dundee knocked out Frush in the ninth round. The punch was a hard right hand to the stomach. With a volley of lefts and rights, Frush went down for nine in the eighth round, but the gong saved him. The first seven rounds were dull and uninteresting.

IS MARVEL

Dundee is one of the real marvels of the ring. He has been fighting out of his class against some of the best men in the ring and has been put down only once. He has been wise with his success and he is a well-to-do young man.

MAY STOP BRENNAN-DEMPSEY BOUT

BILL BRENNAN

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Officialdom may interfere with the Labor Day bout between Bill Brennan and Jack Dempsey at Floyd Fitzsimmons' Michigan City arena. Officers of Laporte-co have until 2 p. m. Friday to order it abandoned. Governor McCray may stop it unless they act.

TO HOLD LAST
GRID MEET

Final meeting to make preparations for the Central High school football camp at Lake St. Marys, at which 50 boys are expected to attend, will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the classroom of Coach O. C. Deitrick at Central building.

Captain Don Polter announced it will be the last opportunity to get in on the camp and has urged all prospective gridlers to show up.

The camp will be opened August 25 near Celina for two weeks, Polter stated.

Appearance here of R. J. Theibert, new head coach, is expected daily. It is believed he will arrive in time to attend the camp.

WESTERN MEN
COME HIGH

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK—Charley Comiskey, the White Sox proprietor, is showing signs of hysteria in throwing out his cash for minor league ball players.

When it was announced that the Old Roman had paid the San Francisco Pacific Coast League club $100,000 for Third Baseman Willie Kamm, some press agent inclinations were suspected.

However, when John Farrell, secretary of the National Association, offered the check as evidence, the sales then turned their doubts to a question of the old man's sanity.

No sooner had the smoke cleared from this than the White Sox boss announced that he had paid the Seattle club $50,000 for Frank "Stubby" Mack, a young pitcher.

Because Mack was considered only a fair pitcher, many of the western fans gave the Sox the laugh and said they had been stung, but the scouts on the coast predict that he is a fine prospect.

SIX FOOTER

Mack's nickname of "Stubby" is a misnomer, as he is six feet tall and weighs 155 pounds. He started baseball as a bat boy with one of his home town semi-pro teams in San Diego. He was picked up around Los Angeles and signed by the Calgary team in the Western Canada League. At the close of the 1920 season he was picked up by Seattle for $1,000 and was turned over to Tacoma in the Pacific International League for development.

He had a hard time getting going this year and made a poor record, but it is said that he was a victim of hard luck. He pitches overhand like all of the old timers.

Since the Detroit Tigers picked up such a jewel in Pitcher Pilette, who was regarded as a classy brawler on the Portland bench, the big league owners perhaps will pay for a dozen bloomers to get one good one.

NICE LUCK

Comiskey is having fine luck in building up a new White Sox team from minor league products. If Kamm and Mack come thru for him, he stands a good chance for the 1923 American League pennant.

When the 1919 black-leaved his team to a fragment, Comiskey heard all the magnates whispering in his ear: "We'll help you, Charley."

They not only refused to trade players with him or sell him some help, but they went out and outbid him for stars that were on the market.

He deserves all the success he can get in building up a team the way it should be built.

Sarazen Nears His Ambition Today

GENE SARAZEN

AMOUNT COUNTRY CLUB.

PITTSBURGH—Gene Sarazen today tackled one of the two remaining obstacles which stand between him and the cherished ambition of being national open golf champion and national professional champion, at the same time. His opponent today in the 36-hole semi-final match for the professional crown is Bob Cruikshank, of Westfield, N. J. Cruikshank eliminated Charles Rowe, of Pittsburgh 3 and 2 in the fourth round.

Emmet French the Youngstown veteran whose low medal scored have been consistent throughout the tournament, has the over dangerous John Golden of Toledo, N. Y., as his opponent. In yesterday's round French put Emil Loeffler, Pittsburgh, out of the running 4 and 2.

Repetition
Is Hard

By BILLY EVANS

GOLF is considered the most difficult sport to master. It takes years to develop the skill that makes for a champion. Yet of all sport titles none is held on such uncertain tenure as that of the golf champion. Usually it is a mighty brief one.

During the summer we have had a couple of striking examples of this.

Jack Hutchison, the British open champion of 1921, went abroad to defend his title. He made a showing worthy of a champion. However, it was not good enough to retain the title. Walter Hagen won the British honors.

Recently at Chicago, Jim Barnes, the United States champion, was up against a classy field. He played well, but Gene Sarazen did considerably better.

THEY SELDOM REPEAT

Furthermore, golf champions seldom repeat. Rarely does the winner of a certain championship contest hold the title longer than a year.

In this respect golf is a decided exception to other sports where a champion's reign usually is a long one.

Take boxing, for instance. Johnny Kilbane has held the featherweight title for more than 10 years. Jack Britton and Benny Leonard have ruled the welter and lightweight divisions for a number of years. Since Jack Dempsey defeated Jesse Willard he has beaten off the attempts of all heavyweight challengers.

HOLD THEIR OWNS

In tennis Bill Tilden reigns supreme among the men, while Molla Mallory and Suzanne Lenglen are easily the class of the feminine stars.

It is much the same in baseball. Ty Cobb year after year has led the American League in batting. Occasionally some batsman will carry off the honors for a year, but Cobb invariably recovers the title the following season.

The element of luck figures largely in every sport. Golf is no exception. As a matter of fact, all other things being equal, luck usually determines the winner in any of the big golf matches.

YANK DEFEAT HELPS BROWNS
BOOST SLENDER LEAD

NEW YORK—The Browns, by breaking even in a double header at Washington, increased the lead in the American League race over the Yanks who dropped a game to the Tigers, at the Polo grounds. In the National the Gias moved still further away from the Cardinals, by defeating Pittsburgh while Brooklyn was tumbling the St. Louis team.

The encounter at the Polo grounds which the Cobb men won in the ninth inning when Carl Mays weakened, was marked by Babe Ruth's 22nd home run of the season. Detroit won 7 to 3. The Browns won the first game from the Senators 7 to 3 and lost the second 3 to 2.

The Giants took a hard battle from the Pirates, 7 to 6 and Brooklyn with Bourleigh again back in the harness left the Cardinals on the short end of a 3 to 2 score.

The Cubs batted out a 9 to 4 victory over the Braves and Cincinnati won from the Phillies 3 to 1. A wild throw by Sewell in the ninth inning with two down cost Cleveland a loss to the Athletics 10 to 9. At Boston the Red Sox punched the offering of the White Sox recruit, Mack, and won 5 to 3.

"COMET" IS BACK

Followers of tennis are watching with greatest interest the remarkable "comeback" of Maurice McLoughlin, former world's singles and doubles champion, as demonstrated in his play at the California tennis championship tournament.

His strokes showed him to be the McLoughlin of old, in the days of 1911 when he won over Norman Brookes and Anthony Wilding, the famous Australian champions.

MUTT AND JEFF—LOOK WHAT JEFF'S QUARTER INVESTMENT NETS HIM—

By BUD FISH

BRINGING UP FATHER—

—BY M'MAN

SHORT SHAVINGS

Dave Carpenter put fishing tackle and bait into a rowboat for a day's fishing and shoved off from the dock at Lakeview.

Then he had to call for help to get back. He had forgotten the oars for the boat.

Fred Morris started to carry some eskimo pies. He found them cold in his hand. So he put them in his pockets. "I wish," he says, "I had remembered to take them out before they melted."

Ervin Sellers, auditor, couldn't sleep. Two cats were singing a Romeo and Juliet outside his window.

He threw a shoe out the window at the two, and the cats departed.

Next morning he put on one shoe, went out to look for his mate, and couldn't find it.

Glen Robin says he saw a whole family weigh on automatic scales for 1 cent.

The heaviest member dropped the penny and weighed himself. Then each of the others stepped on the scales in turn, according to weight, each stepping on before his predecessor got off.

PASSENGERS ON FLIGHT HEAR RADIO CONCERT

DETROIT, Mich. — Passengers taking the 30-minute flying trip between Detroit and Cleveland may soon be listening in on radio concerts during their journey.

Experiments with a radio set in the cabin of one of their flying boats have led officials of the company owning them to plan the installation of a permanent set in each boat.

These experiments were made with the co-operation of Howard E. Campbell, chief radio engineer of the Detroit News broadcasting station, WWJ. Campbell installed a three-foot loop antenna with a three-stage audio frequency set for reception of a special concert broadcast from WWJ.

A loud speaker was also installed, but the noise of the powerful motors overhead drowned out the music from the horn. When ear phones were put in place, however, the motors did not interfere and the music came clearly. At times it was found unnecessary to use the radio-frequency tubes.

Increasing Efficiency of Transmission Is Job for Radio Engineers

BY PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority

To the layman there is nothing startling about power transmission by radio.

He has heard of so many startling things done by radio that he has now reached the point where almost anything can be expected of it as a matter of course.

The radio engineer, however, would be very much startled if an efficient method of power transmission without wires were actually put into use.

The nearest approach which we have to a radio power station at the present time is those larger stations erected for communication with points across the Atlantic or the Pacific. In these stations, energies totaling perhaps 250 kilowatts are used.

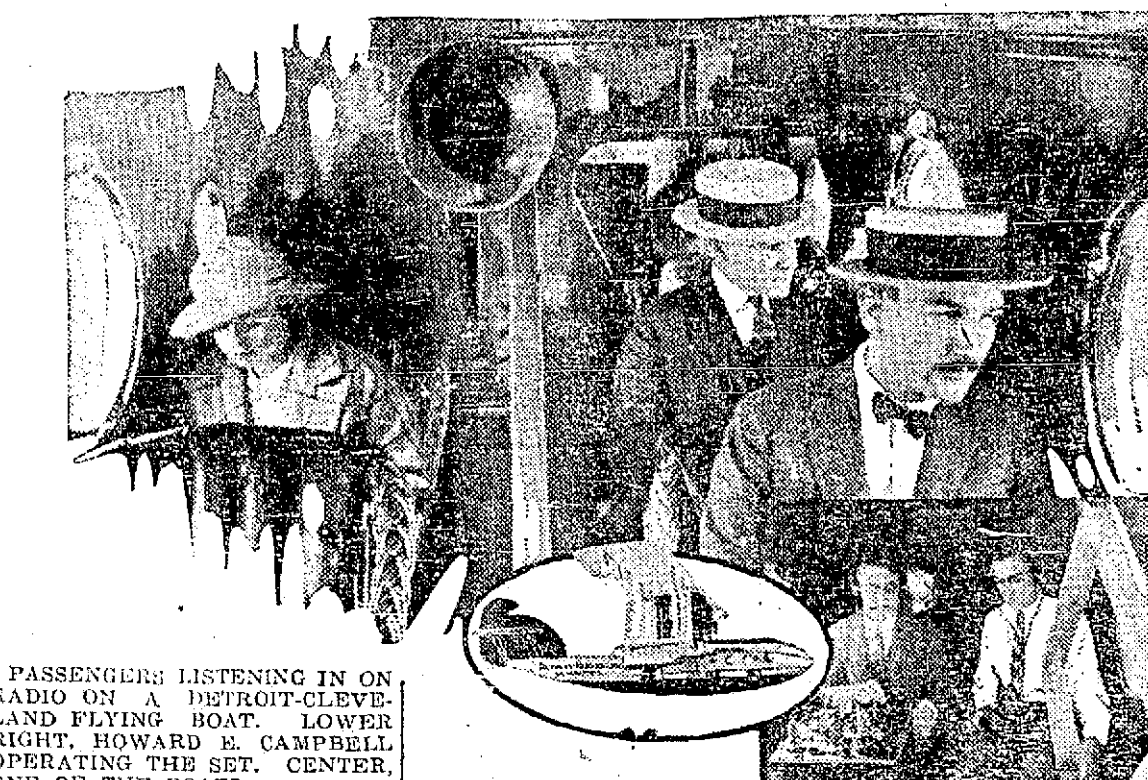

HIGH FREQUENCIES
In the form generated for home or factory consumption, electricity cannot be caused to radiate into space. It must be transformed into alternating impulses of very high frequency. The highest frequencies are used in the smaller, short wave stations which usually employ one to two kilowatts of electrical energy. Here, under the very best conditions, but 25 per cent of the energy put into the radio apparatus ever leaves the antenna or radiating device.

The highest powers used in radio necessitate operation on much longer wave length—much lower frequencies. Under the very best conditions at the high-power stations but four per cent of the total energy put into the radio apparatus ever leaves the antenna or radiating device.

GREAT LOSS
But, supposing 100 per cent efficiency were to be had in the transforming apparatus and the radiator, how large a part of the radiated energy would be absorbed and utilized by the receiver? A very small part.

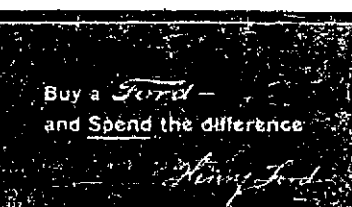

The greater portion would be radiated into space and dissipated thru natural agencies. Vegetation, mountains, cities, bridges and all manner of things would be receiving and wasting the radiant energies just as they are doing now. Perhaps but one-tenth-thousandth part of the total energy would ever be usefully employed even were the transmitting station surrounded by nearby receivers.

RADIO PRIMER
FUNDAMENTAL WAVE LENGTH
—Length of waves emitted by an antenna when no added inductance or capacity is inserted in the antenna circuit. For flat top aerials this is about four-times the length of the antenna, from the radio apparatus to the end of the antenna.
